Instructions

ATTACH ETHERNET CABLE
To your modem or router

To set up the connection, attach one end of the Ethernet cable to a free port on your modem or router.

ATTACH ETHERNET CABLE
To your Disklavier

Attach the other end of the cable to the Ethernet port on your Disklavier. The location of the port is shown here.

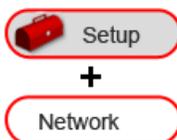

PRESS

Press the [Internet] button. Congratulations, you are now connnected. You should see the Internet Direct Connection home page.

Still can't connect? Follow these instructions...

PRESS

Setup + Network

If you see a screen saying that you are not successfully connected, you may need to set up your instrument to connect to your network. To do so, press [Setup], then [Network] on your PRC.

On the network screen, you can update your DHCP, DNS, Proxy and manual IP settings. In most cases you will not need to edit these settings.

Unless you are manually assigning DNS or IP locations for your instrument, you can set DHCP to on, and your network should automatically configure the settings to connect successfully.

CONFIRM NETWORK
SETTINGS

If you want to enter your DNS server addresses manually, you can choose "DHCP and DNS".

If you also want to enter your IP Address, Subnet Mask and Gateway Server information, select "Manual". Also, if you're using a proxy server, you will need to enter the name and port of your proxy server here in order to connect.

Note: If you have any questions about the settings for your network, please contact your internet service provider, or refer to the documentation for your router.

PRESS

After entering and confirming your network settings, return to the Internet Direct Connection home page by pressing "Internet" on the PRC's main menu.
